

Agricultural Workers Provided with New Houses at State Expense in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea

According to the new programme for the rural revolution advanced at the Fourth Plenary Meeting of the Eighth Central Committee of the Workers' Party of Korea, new dwelling houses were built in all parts of the countryside in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

Agricultural workers move to new houses provided to them free of charge by the state.

Overall view of the Village in the Ryongpho Greenhouse Farm

Some of the new dwelling houses in the Ryongwon Farm, Kumya County

Some of the new dwelling houses in the Ryongwon Farm, Kumya County

Some of the new dwelling houses in the Tokam Farm, Kaesong

Some of the new dwelling houses in the Mundong Fruit Farm, Pukchong County

Some of the new dwelling houses in Kumsong-ri, Onchon County

Agricultural workers of the Ryonpho Greenhouse Farm dancing merrily upon receiving new houses

Agricultural workers in the Ryongwon Farm, Kumya County moving into new houses

Agricultural workers in the Jasan Farm, Phyongsong, full of delight to receive new houses