

People's Open-air Ice Rink

On the picturesque Taedong riverside in Pyongyang, the capital city of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, there is the People's Open-air Ice Rink, boasting its unique architectural beauty.

Inaugurated in November 2012, its total floor space is 6 469 square metres, and the skating area is 1 800 square metres.

As a public service establishment, it is frequented by people all year round.
